Days 1 & 2 (25th & 26th June)

Understanding the impact of relational and developmental trauma and disrupted attachment on children's brains, bodies, emotions, relationships, and behaviours: Theory and Practical Tools

Offers an abundance of learnings around the impact of trauma, neglect, toxic stress, and disrupted attachment on children, adolescents, and on their surrounding adults. Including on the impact of trauma and disrupted attachment on the body (Physical and sensory), brain (cognitive and neuropsychological), emotions, behaviours, learning, and relationships.

Day 3 (27th June)

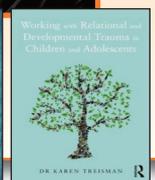

Moving towards being trauma-informed and trauma-responsive (organizationally).

Reflects on why a trauma-informed and trauma-responsive organisation is needed. It supports attendees to reflect, notice, magnify, and celebrate what they are already doing that is going well, and which is in line with the principles of trauma-informed practice. As well as making action plans and commitments for what areas need improvement, and expansion. Includes considering areas across the whole organisation such as recruitment and induction, through to behaviour policies, to the physical environment and to self-care.

The 3 days will utilise an array of learning and teaching styles including small group discussions, experiential hands-on learning, multimedia methods, and lecture delivery. Case studies and live examples will be interwoven throughout.
